

FLOW walking and cycling: tools for the cities

Course description

This video gives an overview of the FLOW tools for cities developed by the FLOW project, indicating how walking and cycling can reduce congestion.

Target audience

Transport planners in local authorities and consultancies with at least some experience doing impact assessment and transport modelling, other multipliers

Thematic area

Non-motorised transport & Transport modelling

Please click here to find the video.

Date of release

2017

Associated with project

FLOW